

“Our custom electrical upgrades are designed to fit like a glove.”

— Bill Duffett,
Director, Framatome
Nuclear Products

Together, writing stories of success.

Framatome’s innovations strengthen your existing fleet and advance the future of nuclear energy.

Finding like-for-like replacements for electrical equipment can be tricky at times, impossible at others. The challenge is to keep an aging plant running safely and reliably.

By designing and delivering custom upgrade solutions, Framatome makes everything that was old new again. And when you install the new equipment, it fits like a glove.
